Wild Oats

Last summer a Connecticut farmer was approached by a tramp, who asked for something to eat and a night's lodging. It was pretty well towards evening and the work was all done, so the farmer gave the tramp his supper and sent him to the barn to sleep, agreeing that he was to call him the next morning in time to work out his keep.

About half-past three in the morning the farmer routed out the tramp. What's all this, boss? said the tramp, rubbing his eyes.

Time to get up and work.

What doing?

We're going to reap.

Reap what?

Oats.

Are they wild oats, boss?

No, of course not. Why?

Well, if they ain't wild oats, why do you have to sneak up on 'em like this in the dark?

Cheapest of Oils.—Considering the curative qualities of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil it is the cheapest of all preparations offered to the public. It is to be found in every drug store in Canada from coast to coast and all country merchants keep it for sale. So, being easily procurable and extremely moderate in price, no one should be without a bottle of it.

Most Any Time

A country road, trees, sky, summer homes, a lake in the distance. A steam railway line crosses the road at right angles.

Enter up the road, an automobile, well loaded and running at high speed.

Enter at the far right an express train.

Both automobile and train are rushing toward the crossing.

Owner of automobile to chauffeur: Can you make it?

The chauffeur, speeding up: Sure I can make it!

GIRL'S NERVES FULLY RESTORED

Was Never Able to Obtain Lasting Benefit Until Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Was Used.

Too many girls grow up with weak, anaemic bodies and exhausted nervous systems. Indolent life and too much application in school are sometimes the cause.

The blood needs enriching and the nerves need strengthening by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This food cures is doing wonders for many thousands of girls whose parents had almost despaired of their ever developing into strong, healthy women.

Mrs. J. Bagnall, 395 Woodville avenue, Toronto, writes: "My daughter suffered from nervousness since childhood, and any medicines she tried did not do any lasting good. We read in the papers about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and my daughter used it with wonderful results. This treatment has built up her system and so strengthened the nerves that she feels like another girl."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Bearing Out the Adage

What's the best thing you ever saw that bore out the old adage that cleanliness is next to godliness?

Lemme see. Oh, yes. Back in the town where I came from the Salvation Army barracks was next door to the Chinese Laundry.

Explained

I see now why it takes you so long to shave. I have been watching you, Rivers.

Well? You make a lot of hideous faces at yourself while doing it, and every face, of course, requires a separate shave.

Minard's Liniment. Cures Dandruff.

A man of letters who visited Washington recently appeared at but one dinner party during his stay. Then he sat next to the daughter of a noted naval officer. Her vocabulary is of a kind peculiar to very young girls, but she rattled away at the famous man without a moment's respite. It was during a pause in the general conversation that she said to him.

I'm awfully stuck on Shakespeare. Don't you think he's too terribly interesting?

Everybody listened to hear the great man's brilliant reply, for as a Shakespearean scholar he has few peers.

Yes, he said, solemnly. I do think he is interesting. I think he is more than that. I think Shakespeare is just simply too cute for anything.

Judd Ward—Bill Purdy's dog bit Lew six times.

Gene Woods—Lew's dog has a license, you know.

Judd Ward—But I don't think the license allow him to bite a man more than once.

And Got a Sharp Look

I asked my husband for some pin money this morning.

What did he say?

He asked me how much pins were a packet.

His Last Request

Not a sound could be heard in the court-room. The prisoner had just been condemned to death.

You have a right to express a last wish, said the judge, and if it is possible it will be granted.

The prisoner, who was a barber, gave the judge an appealing look as he replied:

I should like just once more, to be allowed to shave the district attorney.

Only the Half

Maiden Aunt—Venice at last! One-half of the dream of my youth is now fulfilled.

Niece—Why only half, auntie?

Aunt (sighing)—I contemplated going to Venice on my wedding tour.

A small boy saw some young puppies at the dog dealers.

Oh, Mr. Brown, he asked the man, how much do you want for those puppies?

They're $3 apiece, Master Beverly.

Oh, but I don't want a piece, I want a whole dog.

A Kitchener Story

Lord Kitchener thinks that marriage means the end of a soldier's career; in fact, a soldier should be wedded to his profession. Some time ago a very well known lady to whom he had expounded this view retorted by asking him a question.

If the officers of the army today are not to marry, said she, where are you to find the officers for the army tomorrow?

And Lord Kitchener, remembering that officers are usually the sons of officers was silenced.

A well-known Scotch professor was occasionally called up to Balmoral to attend the late Queen Victoria, and was extremely proud of the honor. One day a notice appeared in the university which stated that Prof. could not attend his classes that day as he had been called up to Balmoral to see the queen. A waggish student, who saw the notice wrote underneath it: God save the Queen.

Sweet and palatable, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is acceptable to children, and it does its work surely and promptly.

Convincing to Ladies— This Oven Test!

So that you may use less flour, we do what a home cook would do if she were in our place.

From every shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten pound sample. We grind this into flour. Bread is baked from the flour.

We find that some samples make more bread and better bread than others. So we keep the shipment from which the more and better bread comes. The others we sell.

You save money by using flour that bears this name. And you get Better bread.

Concrete is the best building material

A BROAD statement—Yet literally true. The aim of man from the beginning has been to make his building materials as nearly like natural stone as possible. The great labor required to quarry stone led him to seek various manufactured substitutes. The only reason he ever used wood was that it was easiest to get and most convenient to use. Wood is no longer easy to get. Like most building material, its cost is increasing at an alarming rate.

The cost of concrete is decreasing. So, from the standpoint of either service or economy, Concrete is the best building material. Canada's farmers are using more concrete, in proportion to their numbers, than the farmers of any other country. Why?

Because they are being supplied with a cement of the highest possible quality, which insures the success of their concrete work. The secret of concrete's popularity in Canada lies in the fact that while we have been advertising the use of concrete, we have also been producing, by scientific methods, a cement so uniformly high in quality that the concrete made with it gives the complete satisfaction our advertisements promised.

Concrete would not have been in such universal use today, had an inferior grade of cement been supplied. Insist upon getting Canada Cement. It is your best assurance of thoroughly satisfactory results from your concrete work. There is a Canada Cement dealer in your neighborhood.

Without this label it is not "Canada" Cement.

Write for our Free 160-page book "What The Farmer Can Do With Concrete"—No farmer can afford to be without a copy.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Enos Lollar of Saratoga, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by all dealers.

No More Bonuses

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of municipal affairs, announces that official notification has been given to all organized cities in the province of Alberta that the government purposes to amend all charters, to prevent cities from granting bonuses or any other aid to corporations, industries or manufacturers. The proposed amendment provides that no city may exempt such corporations from taxation, nor subscribe stock or guarantee the interest on bonds or debentures. This will place towns and villages and rural municipalities on an equality with cities, and the effect will be to terminate a practice that has resulted in much contention and strife and costly litigation. The action is in accord with the expression of the Union of Alberta Municipalities, which, at a recent convention, passed resolutions condemning housing of all kinds.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For cough there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all dealers.

ADVERTISING METHODS ADOPTED BY AN ENTERPRISING HOUSE

That Didsbury is fast becoming metropolitan in the methods of advertising used by our merchants to call the buying public's attention to the many splendid values which they are offering, also that the wide-awake firm of Studer & Co. are keeping up with and just a little ahead of the times in an advertising respect is again practically demonstrated by what is perhaps the most elaborate system of advertising ever attempted by any business house in this section, namely: the giving away of the beautiful Upton Parlor Grand Piano which is now on exhibit at their store.

This piano retails at $400.00 each, guaranteed for ten years. The principal points of superiority of this celebrated Upton Parlor Grand piano over any other of this class of instruments lie in the three strings in unison with over-strung bass, the splendidly pitched scale and true sounding board which give the piano that rich, deep, even tone so much admired.

In a recent interview with Mr. Studer regarding this decided innovation in advertising, Mr. Studer stated: "We have been enjoying the patronage and confidence of the buyers of this community for some time now and by always trying to keep our stocks complete the saying that 'You can get it at Studer & Co.' has become a household expression. In giving away this piano we are actuated by a double purpose, to show our appreciation of the patronage of our friends during the past, also to encourage new trade and to bring the many splendid values we are now showing in all lines to the attention of every buyer in this territory. The plan we are using in giving away this piano is equitable and fair to all, simply this, every person buying one dollar's worth of anything in our store will receive a coupon good for 100 votes. The person returning to us on May 1st, 1914, the largest number of votes will be given the piano absolutely free of all cost. No favors will be shown. Our reputation for 'square dealing' assures our customers of that fact."

This four hundred dollar Upton Parlor Grand Piano is surely a present worth having, and we predict a very "merry race" for votes during the next few months.

Messrs. Studer & Co. are surely to be congratulated upon their broad-minded methods and "Trade Getter" advertising system.

Cause for Alarm

Loss of appetite or distress after eating—a symptom that should not be disregarded.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, healthiest persons are moderate eaters. Nothing will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people contract serious maladies through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all who suffer from indigestion, or dyspepsia, to try Rexall's Dypopsia Tablets, with the understanding that we will refund the money paid us without question or formality, if after use you are not perfectly satisfied with results.

We recommend Rexall's Dypopsia Tablets to customers every day, and have yet to hear of one who has not been benefited. We believe them to be without equal. They give prompt relief, aiding to neutralize acidity, stimulate flow of gastric juice, strengthen the digestive organs, and thus promote perfect nutrition and correct unhealthy symptoms. Three doses, 30 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. You can buy Rexall's Dypopsia Tablets in this community only at our store:

Eleven twenty-two, I repeated. Twice eleven is twenty-two. But that isn't very enlightening.

No, she admitted. I thought it might be a telephone number, and I called up all the eleven twenty-twos in the city. Anne said Carter had come back, and she went to waken him, but although his door was locked inside he did not answer. Annie and I switched on all the lights on the lower floor from the top of the stairs and then we went down together and looked around. Every window and door was locked, but in father's study on the first floor, two drawers of his desk were standing open. And in the library, the little compartment in my writing table where I keep my house money, had been broken open and the money taken.

Nothing else was gone?

Nothing. The silver on the sideboard in the dining room, plenty of valuable things in the cabinet in the drawing room—nothing was disturbed.

It might have been Carter, I reflected. Did he know where you kept your house money?

It is possible, but I hardly think so. Besides, if he was going to steal there were so many more valuable things in the house. My mother's jewels as well as my own were in my dressing room, and the door was not locked.

They were not disturbed?

She hesitated.

They had been disturbed, she admitted. My grandmother left each of her children some unstrung pearls.

They were a hobby with her. Aunt Jane and Aunt Letitia never had theirs strung, but my mother's were made into different things, all old fashioned. I left them locked in a drawer in my sitting room, where I have always kept them. The following morning the drawer was unlocked and partly open, but nothing was missing.

All your jewelry was there?

All but one ring, which I rarely remove from my finger. I followed her eyes. Under her glove was the outline of a ring, a solitaire stone.

It does not sound like an ordinary burglary, I reflected. Nineteen from thirty-five leaves sixteen, according to my mental process, although I know men who could make the difference nothing.

I believe she thought I was a little mad.

We must find him, Mr. Knox, she insisted as she got up. If you know of a detective that you can trust, please get him. But you can understand that the unexplained absence of the state treasurer must be kept secret. I am sure he is being kept away. You don't know what enemies he has. Men like Mr. Schwartz, who have no scruples.

Schwartz! I repeated in surprise.

RASH ON FACE
HANDS AND ARMS

Skin Would Cope Over and Peel. Spots Large. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Has Not Had a Mark on Her Since. They Also Cured Mother of Pimples on Face.

578 Gladstone Ave., Toronto, Ont.—"My baby's trouble began as a rash and the skin used to sometimes peel off and look as if it were going to get better, but would just peel off again and peel. The spots were large and it used to make her face very red and inflamed all the time. It came on her face, hands and arms, and it used to make her restless at night. She got the rash in March and how I hated to see it on her little face and hands! I tried a lot of different things after that but nothing did any good. I saw the advertisement and sent for samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it started to get better right away. I used them only about once a day, and in little more than two weeks she hadn't a spot on her anywhere. She had it three months before I used the treatment. She has not had a mark on her since and she is two and a half years old now. Cuticura Soap and Ointment also cured pimples on my face."

Henry Schwartz was the boss of his party in the state, the man of whom one of his adversaries had said, with the distinct approval of the voting public, that he was so low in the scale of humanity that it would require a special dispensation of heaven to raise him to the level of total degradation. But he and Fleming were generally supposed to be captain and first mate of the pirate craft that passed with us for the ship of state.

Mr. Schwartz and my father are allies politically, the girl explained, with heightened color, but they are not friends. My father is a gentleman.

The inference I allowed to pass unnoticed, and as if she feared she had said too much the girl rose. When she left a few minutes later it was with the promise that she would close the Monmouth avenue house and go to her aunt's at Bellwood at once. For myself, I pledged a thorough search for her father and began it by watching the scarlet wing on her hat through the top of the elevator cage until it had descended out of sight.

CHAPTER II.

Uneasy Apprehensions

I am afraid it was a queer hodge-podge of clues and sentiment that I poured out to Hunter, the detective, when he came up late that afternoon.

They're rotten clear through, Hunter reflected. This administration is worse than the last, and it was a peach. There have been more suicides than I could count on my two hands in the last ten years. I warn you—you'd better keep out of this mess.

What do you think about the eleven twenty-two? I asked.

It might be that many dollars or the time a train starts, or it might be the eleventh and the twenty-second letters of the alphabet—K-V.

K-V! I repeated. Why that would be the Latin word for beware.

Hunter smiled cheerfully. You'd better stick to the law, Mr. Knox, he said from the door. We don't use Latin in the detective business.

Plattsburg was not the name of the capital, but it will do for this story. The state doesn't matter either. We will say that my home city is Manchester. I live with my married brother, his wife and two boys. Fred is older than I am and he is an exceptional brother. On the day he came home from his wedding trip I went down with my traps on a hansom in accordance with a prearranged schedule. Fred and Edith met me inside the door.

Here's your latchkey, Jack, Fred said as he shook hands. Only one stipulation—remember we are strangers in the neighborhood and try to get home before the neighbors are up. We have our reputations to think of.

There is no hour for breakfast Edith said as she kissed me. You have a bath of your own and don't smoke in the drawing-room.

Fred was always a sticky devil. I had been there now for six years and had helped to raise two young Knoxes—bully youngsters, too (the oldest one could use boxing gloves when he was four) and the finest collicle pup in our end of the state. I wanted to raise other things. The boys liked pets, but Edith didn't care for animals.

On the day that Margery Fleming came to me about her father I went home in a state of mixed emotion. Dinner was not a quiet meal. Fred and I talked politics generally, and as Fred was on one side and I on the other there always was an argument on.

What about Fleming? I asked at last when Fred had declared that in these days of corruption no matter what the government was he was for it. Hasn't he been frightened into reform?

Bad egg, he said, jabbing his point to as if it had been a politician, and there's no way to improve a bad egg except to hold your nose. That's what the public is doing—holding its nose.

Hasn't he a daughter? I asked casually.

Yes—a lovely girl, too, Edith asserted. It is his only redeeming quality.

Fleming is a rascal, daughter or no daughter, Fred persisted. Ever since he and his gang got poor Butler into trouble and then left him to kill himself as the only way out I have felt that there was something coming to all of them—Hansen, Schwartz and the rest. I saw Fleming on the street today.

What! I exclaimed, almost jumping out of my chair.

Fred surveyed me quizzically.

Hasn't he a daughter? he quoted. Yes, I saw him, Jack, this very day in an unromantic four wheeler, and he was swearing at a policeman.

Where was it?

Chestnut and Union. His cab had been struck by a car and badly damaged, but the gentleman refused to get out. No doubt you could get the details from the corner man.

Look here, Fred, I said earnestly.

Keep that to yourself, will you? And you too, Edith? It's a queer story, and I will tell you some time.

As we left the dining room Edith put her hand on my shoulder.

Don't get mixed up with those people, Jack, she advised. Margery's a dear girl, but her father practically killed Henry Butler, and Henry Butler married my cousin.

You needn't make it a family affair, I protested. I have only seen the girl once.

But Edith smiled. I know what I know, she said. How extravagant of you to send Bobby that enormous hobby horse!

The boy has to learn to ride some time. In four years he can have a pony, and I'm going to see that he has it. He'll be eight by that time.

Edith laughed.

In four years! she said. Why, in four years you'll be forty, Jack. And it's a mighty unattractive man who gets past forty without being sought and won by some woman. You'll be buying—

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, The Tube Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Willie—Under your desk.

HAPPY OLD AGE

Most Likely to Follow Proper Eating

As old age advances we require less food to replace waste, and food that will not overtax the digestive organs, while supplying true nourishment.

Such an ideal food is found in Grape-Nuts, made of whole wheat and barley by long baking and action of diastase in the barley which changes the starch into a most digestible sugar.

The phosphates also, placed up under the outer-coat of the wheat, are included in Grape-Nuts, but are lacking in white flour because the outer coat of the wheat darkens the flour and is left out by the miller. These natural phosphates are necessary to the well-balanced building of muscles, brain and nerve cells.

"I have used Grape-Nuts," writes a Western man, "for 8 years and feel as good and am stronger than I was ten years ago."

"Among my customers I meet a man every day who is well along in years and attributes his good health to Grape-Nuts and Postum which he has used for the last 5 years. He mixes Grape-Nuts with Postum and says they go fine together."

"For many years before I began to eat Grape-Nuts, I could not say that I enjoyed life or knew what it was to be able to say 'I am well.' I suffered greatly with constipation, but now my habits are as regular as ever in my life."

"Whenever I make extra effort I depend on Grape-Nuts food and it just fills the bill. I can think and write a great deal easier."

"There's a Reason." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read "The Road to Wellville," 12 pages.

100 Straight From 19 Yards Wins
Western Handicap Shoot

With the only perfect score ever recorded in the event, and one that has been duplicated in winning no interstate tournament since the season of 1910, C. A. Gunning, of Longmont, Colo., shooting a Remington pump gun and Nitro Club speed shells from the 19 yard mark, broke 100 clay targets straight in the main event, and won the Western Handicap. At this, the fourth of the season's five great clay bird assemblies, held August 5-7 at Omaha, Neb., W. H. Heer, shooting a Remington pump gun and Arrow speed shells, missed but three targets out of the 350 thrown and captured high general average for the meet. J. C. Norris, of Basin, Wyo., with the same shooting equipment made the tournament's long run, breaking 235 straight. J. S. Young, of Chicago, and J. F. Frink, of Worthington, Minn., each with the same perfect shooting combination, broke the program's entire hundred straight on the third and last day of the shoot.

The Real Liver Pill—A torpid liver means a disordered system, mental depression, lassitude and in the end, if care be not taken, a chronic state of debility. The very best medicine to arouse the liver to healthy action is Parmedee's Vegetable Pills. They are compounded of purely vegetable substances of careful selection and no other pills have their fine qualities. They do not gripe or pain and they are agreeable to the most sensitive stomach.

The ongest Day

A retired Colonel had been advised by his doctor that if he did not give up drinking it would shorten his life.

Think so? asked the Colonel. I am sure of it, colonel. If you stop drinking I am sure it will prolong your days.

Come to think of it, I believe you are right about that doctor, said the Colonel. I went twenty-four hours without a drink six months ago, and I never put in such a long day in my life.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Dear Sirs,—While in the country last summer I was badly bitten by mosquitoes, so badly that I thought I would be disfigured for a couple of weeks. I was advised to try your Liniment to delay the irritation, and did so. The effect was more than I expected, a few applications completely curing the irritation, and preventing the bites from becoming sore. MINARD'S LINIMENT is also a good article to keep off the mosquitoes.

Yours truly,

W. A. V. R.

Aren't you going to say your prayers, Willie?

No, I'm not. I am tired of praying for this family without getting any results.

That's a nice umbrella you've got, Mr. Jones.

Yes; it was a present.

Indeed! From whom?

I don't know. But it says on the handle: Presented to John Robinson.

Health cannot be looked for in the child that is subject to worms, because worms destroy health by creating internal disturbances that retard development and cause serious weakness. Miller's Worm Powders expel worms and are so beneficial in their action that the systems of the little sufferers are restored to healthfulness, all the discomforts and dangers of worm infection are removed, and satisfactory growth is assured.

Baby had been displayed in his best bib and tucker to a number of admiring callers. The last one looked him over and was evidently trying to think of something nice to say. Finally she remarked: Dear me, how much he looks like his father!

It's only the warm weather, replied his mother, somewhat testily. The child is usually right cheerful and handsome.

ARIZONA KICKLETS

The Editor of the Publication Explains His Position.

NEVER OUT FOR MONEY.

Points Out That Swindling Advertisements Never Appear in His Paper No Matter What the Inducement—Doesn't Appear to Be "Dictator."

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.]

WE have often been asked why we started the publication of the Kicker, and we have had but one answer to give—for our health's sake. We return the same answer when asked why we continue its publication.

We have never been out for the money and never shall be. From our childhood up to date we have always had a fatherly interest in the public, and that feeling has grown with the passing of years. As an editor we can protect the public far more than we could if owning and running a sawmill.

No swindling advertisements have ever appeared in the Kicker, and none ever will. We personally own seven mountains, 40,000 acres of desert land and thirty-nine caverns and could swindle all New England, but we have steadfastly refused to unload on a confiding public. They trust us and are never deceived.

Not only as mayor, but as editor of the Kicker (circulation almost 3,000,000,000 weekly), we aim to keep a fatherly eye on Glendarn Gulch itself. About once every two months we make a tour of the town and a general cleaning up of things that shouldn't be.

We do this from goodness of heart alone and not because we aspire to be a dictator. We don't want to be pointed out as the big "It." We haven't the slightest idea that we own the town or that things have got to go as we decree. Those who charge us otherwise do us a great injustice.

At an early hour last Wednesday morning we buckled on our guns and went hunting for an individual named Idaho Sam. He arrived here four weeks ago and announced that he was a holy terror, and he has since made a nuisance of himself. We found him after half an hour's search and tendered him his choice between hitting the trail and hanging. He started to argue the matter, but we got the drop on him and as a result the midday sun shone down on him as he rested on the far side of Wolf creek.

Our next visit of state was paid to Mr. C. I. Flint, attorney at law. Mr. Flint is of that class called shysters. He was disbarred in Chicago and came out here to make a fresh start. His doings have been unsavory, and he has neglected to take advantage of little hints thrown out by us from time to time. When we called and announced to him that he must pull his freight he grabbed for a shotgun in the corner of his office, but soon thought better of it and agreed to change climates. He went that night. In his new location we wish him well.

Three months ago Dr. Barnes hung out his sign on Apache avenue. Before he had been a week in practice we learned that he knew nothing about medicine except what he learned in a sawmill. We decided to give him a chance, however. Out in this country we feel that every man is entitled to at least one fair show. Dr. Barnes had made a botch of it at setting broken limbs and diagnosing cases, and it was time for him to move on. We stated the case gently but firmly, and he replied that he had been expecting it and was glad to go.

When Mr. John Taylor arrived in Glendarn gulch six weeks ago he gave out that he was looking for a place to establish an orphan asylum. He was offered alms on the mountains and on the plains, but he seemed to lose interest. It soon developed that he was simply a good natured sort of deadbeat. There has been no particular harm in him, but as he was breathing ozone rightfully belonging to some one else, he was asked to move on. He moved. There were tears in his eyes as he went, and his last words were that this was a cold old world.

Before we had visited Lawyer Jim Wheelan in his office to hold a little talk word came to us that he had a gun and intended to shoot on sight. Mr. Wheelan is another shyster. He came here from Milwaukee to escape being sent to state prison, but the change of climate didn't bring reform with it. On several different occasions we have had to refer to him in the Kicker as a liar and a scoundrel, and the relations between us have been somewhat strained.

When we entered Mr. Wheelan's office the other day he was ready to debate the question. We found ourselves looking into the muzzle of a large and liberal revolver. As a matter of fact, he pulled trigger on us, and if the cartridge hadn't failed to explode this issue of the Kicker would have contained the obituary. The failure of the cartridge gave us our chance, and within four hours Mr. Wheelan and his law library and his little ways were out of sight down the Panther creek trail. Other towns may greet him with open arms, but there was something lacking between him and the gulch.

Many and many a time in the last six months have we warned Dr. Henry Mason that he should have stuck to sheep herding and left the practice of medicine alone. When we came to learn that he couldn't tell quinine from morphine we talked to him like a brother and offered to pay his fare to Florence, but he was a man who would dwell on the ragged edges of fate. He believed in destiny, and he believed destiny meant him to lead the medical profession. He argued it out so clearly that we shut up.

A week ago Dr. Mason killed off his third patient. It was only a Chinaman, but out here we are even coming to look upon the Celestial as a human being. The public didn't actually rise up and demand that the doctor go or hang, but we rather put it that way when we called. He wasn't a minute in saying that he would go. He had a good offer to go back to his herding and so much Latin and medicine together made his head ache. He retires with honors. He could have killed a dozen patients during his practice, but he has been content with three.

For a few minutes after we struck the trail of Joe Caniff it looked as if some one would be planted before sundown. Joseph came here from Santa Fe a few weeks ago with an object in view. That object, as stated by himself, was "to raise blazes." He has accomplished it pretty thoroughly. He has had two shooting scrapes and three or four barroom rows. A few days ago the vigilance committee sat on his case, and it was resolved that he must go.

Joseph was the last one on our list. We hunted him out in a pool room and assumed a brotherly smile. It didn't go. Then we tried the fatherly dodge. It didn't work. Joseph was fly. He had two guns, and it was just his hour for shooting. There was some little discussion, and then he started to draw. We beat him by the fraction of a second, and, as he afterward said, he ought to have had sense enough to put hands up. He didn't, however, and we had to bore a bullet into his shoulder. All things considered, he got off easy. He is now in the hospital, but after a few days will set off with a new song in his heart and look for a town where a man of his caliber is appreciated. Sooner or later he will be lynched, but then he will have lots of fun while he does live. We regard the town now as in a healthy social condition and should not be a bit surprised to see a boom set in and real estate jump 25 per cent.

No one exactly knows where the individual calling himself Judge Williams hailed from. He gave out that he was here to see about establishing waterworks, but was soon a hanger on for free drinks and was always wanting to borrow a dollar. His attitude and occupation appeared against the best interests of Arizona, and we therefore gave him a hint to move on. He said he would sadly miss the home-like surroundings of the Gulch, but he vanished.

DIDN'T WANT TO BE HASTY.

Hence He Was Pleased to Have His Judgment Confirmed.

A Kansas man, who had played the role of the henpecked husband for a number of years, one day met an agent who was selling a book. The book agent dilated at length on the beauty and literary merit of the book, but the Kansas man told him he wasn't prepared to buy. "But," he said, "there is a woman who lives in the house next to the corner in the next block who I'm satisfied wants that book and wants it bad."

The agent hastened to the house and managed somehow to get inside the door. In about a minute he came out on the run and in a wild jump from the porch missed all the front steps and lit on the sidewalk running. The hen pecked husband had been an interested spectator from the outside.

When he saw the Kansas man, the agent stopped and with some heat said: "Say, that woman you recommended me to is the worst wildcat I ever saw."

"Sure about that, are you?" said the Kansas man.

"Sure? Well I should say I am sure," said the agent as he rubbed the place on his head that had been bit with the broomstick.

"Sort of glad to hear you say so, said the Kansas man. "After twenty-five years' experience with her I'd about come to that conclusion myself, but I didn't want to be hasty about forming an opinion till I had the judgment of some unprejudiced witness."—Kansas City Journal.

REGAINING CASTE.

Ordeals Natives of India Will Face to Be Cleansed.

It is astonishing the belief natives in southern India have in their "caste" and what they will do to regain it if lost. A certain day in the year is set aside for the ceremony of regaining "caste."

An inclosure about twenty feet square is fenced off, and in this logs of wood are burnt, the ashes of which are kept red hot by continual fanning.

Those going through the ceremony have to wash themselves in the river about a mile away; then, with strings of flowers hanging round their necks, they run to the inclosure. By the time they reach it the red hot ashes have been raked all over the floor and the idol of whatever caste they belong to has been placed on a platform at one end.

In rush the "casteless," barefooted, without the slightest hesitation, and dance round and round on the red hot ashes until they drop from exhaustion and are dragged out by their friends. Before going through this painful ceremony of regaining "caste" a man is first supposed to fast for at least three days.—Penton's Weekly.

The Hanging Judge.

When Lord Norbury, "the hanging judge," as he was called in Ireland, was sentencing a man to death for stealing a watch he said:

"My good fellow, you made a grasp at time and caught eternity."

Nothing seemed to please Lord Norbury more than the continual uproar in court created by his puns.

"What is your occupation, my honest man?" he asked a witness.

"Please, your lordship, I keep a racket court."

"So do I," said the judge.

When Lord Norbury was being buried the grave was so deep that the ropes by which the undertaker was letting down the coffin didn't reach to the bottom. The coffin was left hanging midway while somebody went for new ropes.

"Aye," cried one in the crowd, "give him rope enough; don't stint him. He was the boy that never grudged rope to a poor body."

Remarkable Dogs.

A German cobbler and his wife had two dogs, a St. Bernard six months old and a fox terrier three years old. A friend calling one day said to the cobbler, "Those are two fine dogs you have."

"Yes," replied the cobbler, "and do funny part of it is dat de biggest dog is de littlest one."

His wife then spoke up and explained:

"You must mine husband eggeuse. He speaks not very good English. He means the oldest dog is de youngest one."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Fielding's Turning Point.

England's censorship of the drama caused Fielding to turn from playwriting to novel writing. Fielding began his literary career as a dramatist, and by his political satires brought about the establishment of the censorship in 1737, the bill being introduced by Walpole, one of Fielding's victims. With playwriting thus barred to him, he turned his attention to the novel.

Cutting It Short.

Tourist (exasperated at not being able to get a satisfactory answer)—But, hang it all, man, you surely must know how far it is to the station. Is it three miles? Road Mender—N-no, zw, it ain't so far as that—not if you hurry.

HUDSON BAY ESKIMOS.

English Missionary Tells of People Among Whom He Worked.

A great work is being done far up on the northeast shores of Hudson Bay in converting the wandering Indians and Eskimos who inhabit that desolate region to Christianity. A devoted little band of three or four Christian pioneers is stationed there, and a member of that "Arctic mission," who is in England for a short "leave," gave some of his experiences of the country and people.

"I am stationed at a tiny settlement on Great Whale River," said the Rev. W. G. Walton, "and the 'town' consists of two houses and a 'store.' I live at one of the houses with a Hudson Bay trader. We get two mails a year out there, but the newspapers only visit us once, so that you can imagine our expectation when newspaper day comes round. At the end of August every year a ship calls, and we have to be very careful to remember to order everything we want, because if we forget anything we should have to wait another year. The Eskimos never wash themselves.

"I have often seen an Eskimo woman washing her young children like a cat does a kitten—by licking them all over. Their only means of livelihood lies in catching seals. They are always on the lookout for seal holes in the ice. They eat the blubber, that is, the fat of the seal, and clothe themselves or at any rate make their trousers out of sealskin. It is very cold—45 degrees below zero as a rule—and we Europeans have to keep roaring fires going in every room of our house.

"The people don't live in villages, but separately in families, so as to have as wide a field for hunting as possible. They are a very revengeful people. A short while ago an Eskimo was out hunting, and saw a black dot in the distance on the ice. On approaching he made certain that it was a seal just protruding from a seal hole.

He fired and hit it, but when he got up to it he found that he had accidentally shot a man. He called on the widow, said how sorry he was, and, promising to help the woman, asked for forgiveness. The son of the dead man entered, and, when he heard, rushed off and killed all the unfortunate hunter's family in revenge. In retaliation the hunter killed all the dead man's family, and so the feud began. When we were informed of this and came to investigate we found that there was only one man surviving out of two families of about seventeen persons. We could do nothing but lecture the survivor.

"They were terribly lawless until we came, and even now when in the grip of starvation commit the most awful deeds. Lately a mother, ravaged terribly by hunger, went to the length of eating her two children. Another killed his wife and lived on her, and when she had been eaten up tried to murder three other men's children. Luckily he was prevented. There are no native laws. They don't steal, but think nothing of murder. When they are 'put out,' as the saying goes, they must take a life. They don't mind whom they kill when they are angry as long as they kill someone. There is no sort of punishment for the crime. They are very fond of singing, and their favorite or only game is connected therewith. A piece of seal bone, with a little hole in it, is suspended from the 'roof.' They all sit round the 'room,' and each tries to throw an arrow into the hole. He who succeeds has to sing a song, but he who sings most songs wins the game. They get enormously enthusiastic over this pastime. They have large families, and the race would increase tremendously were it not for accidents and murders. They are, however, very impressed by the Christian creed, and we are gradually getting them to change their ways."

Tekahionwake's Ashes.

Where the twining roadway branches into two at Ferguson's Point, in Stanley Park, Vancouver, and near the Siwash rock of which she sang, the ashes of the late Miss E. Pauline Johnson, Canada's Indian poetess, were laid to rest, in the place of her own choosing. The burial was private, and only the late Miss Johnson's closest friends were invited to be present at the time of interment, but people walking in the park gathered to the graveside, and there were some fifty mourners when the last rites were being conducted by Rev. J. C. Owen of Christ Church.

It was a typical March day, with a calm but overcast sky, and not a breath stirring the tall trees when the urn containing the ashes which was incased in a concrete vault, which had been brought from Centre & Hanna's parlors, was placed in the ground just beside a fallen forest giant from whose dead trunk there sprouted and overhung fresh fir branches, symbolic, as it were, of life from the dead.

A granite boulder was rolled over the grave, the ground was strewed with fir branches, so dear to the poetess in life, and the wreaths of friends placed around; a canoe with defodile in the boulder itself, and prominently at the sides a wreath of oak leaves and an Indian brooch of double hearts—the tribal badge of the Mohawk Indians, of which the poetess was Princess Tekahionwake.—Vancouver Sun.

HAS NO USE FOR JAGS

RT. HON. ANDREW FISHER DIS-
COUSES THE YELLOW PERIL.

Former Prime Minister of Australia Says the Commonwealth Will Not Welcome the Little Yellow Men to its Shores—Not Desirable in Large Numbers—Australia's Military Training.

In spite of the alliance that exists between England and Japan, Rt. Hon. Andrew Fisher, until a few days ago premier of the commonwealth of Australia, declares himself emphatically for Japanese exclusion. He is considered to voice the views of an overwhelming majority of the views of the people of Australia and New Zealand.

"The newer countries," says Mr. Fisher, "those with many natural resources still undeveloped, are considered fair fields for exploitation in these days of migration and emigration and it is time that the lawmakers of such countries guard the eternal well being of their own peoples, regulate severely the incoming and doings of the alien who would reap a harvest at the expense of or at least in unfair competition with the legitimate heir to the soil and its products. I am unwilling to insult the patriotism and intelligence of Australians by even intimating that the Nipponese are welcome to our shores.

"Millions of the best and most loyal people of the empire will rejoice when the time limit set for the life of this understanding will have been reached.

RT. HON. ANDREW FISHER.

It was entered into inadvisedly, at least on England's part, for its working out must have made England take sides with Japan as against some of the white nations, Russia, Germany, France or Portugal, over eastern affairs.

"I do not regard the Japanese as a desirable people to have in large numbers in a white man's country. Even with the franchise—which they will never obtain in Australia—they would form elements separate and distinct from the rest of the community.

"A few years ago it was believed by most people that the vast sections of land in the new countries would never be taken up for settlement. Yet land is almost at a premium to-day and the time is probably not far distant when the last portions of the public domain will be thrown open to the people.

"Australia is learning, and we do not propose to lightly or lavishly bestow our public lands."

Australia has provided for future contingencies by the building of a navy and the adoption of compulsory military service. Every Australian boy from 14 years of age is a senior cadet and must do 16 days' drill annually. At 18 he is moved up into the citizen army and from then until he is 26 he must do 16 days annually, if infantry or horse, and 25 days in case of artillery or engineers. There are 178,000 senior cadets registered throughout Australia. In July, 1912, the first batch of cadets, 18,000, were moved up into the adult ranks. Military observers have expressed astonishment at the energy and ability of the new soldiers.

The Empire's Resources.

Only hard figures can adequately tell the story of the resources of the British Empire. In the production of staple articles that part of the world under our flag has some amazing facts to unfold. Take the year 1911, for example. During that year staple products to the following values were produced within the British Empire: Coal, $125,800,000; diamonds, $3,260,000; gold, $55,900,000; silver, $4,368,000.

Turning to quantities from mere cash values, the British Empire produces of wheat, 738,700,000 bushels; of wine, 6,500,000 gallons; of tea, 455,600,000 lbs.; and of cotton, 1,279,616,000 lbs. All our Overseas Dominions contribute their quota to the above amazing totals, and the figures of our smaller Colonies, such as Newfoundland, give one the idea that such Dominions are, after all, not quite so small as one would imagine.

"Executioner to Her Majesty."

The actual signboard of John Calcraft, the famous public executioner, who during his long term of office carried out the extreme penalty of the law on many notorious murderers, has just been placed on view in Mme. Tussaud's Exhibition. The board used to be outside Calcraft's shop. It is framed, and has crudely painted upon it, in large block letters, the following extraordinary inscription: "J. Calcraft, Boot and Shoe Maker. Executioner to Her Majesty." Surmounting the frame is the Royal Coat-of-Arms. John Calcraft, who was born in 1800 and died in 1879, was executioner in London from 1826 until 1871.—Evening Standard.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co. and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

HOW TO TREAT ALL SKIN TROUBLE

Greasy Ointments No Use—Must Be Cured Through the Blood

It is not a good thing for people with a tendency to have pimples and a blotchy complexion to smear themselves with greasy ointments. In fact they couldn't do anything worse, because the grease clogs the pores of the skin, making the disease worse. When there is an irritating rash a soothing boracic wash may help allay the pain of itching, but of course it doesn't cure the trouble. Skin complaints arise from an impure condition of the blood and will persist until the blood is purified. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured many cases of eczema and skin diseases because they make new, rich blood that drives out the impurities, clears the skin and imparts a glow of health. The following proof is offered.

Mrs. Fred Tremble, Gunter, Ont., says: "For more than a year I was steadily afflicted with salt rheum or eczema. My hands were so sore that I could not put them in water without the skin cracking open. I tried all sorts of ointments recommended for the trouble, but they did not do me a particle of good. I was told Dr. Williams' Pink Pills would cure the trouble, and began taking them. I took the pills steadily for six or eight weeks and they completely cured the trouble. This was several years ago and I have never been bothered with it since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The arms are all knocked off.

MADE BIG PROFIT IN MIXED FARMING

A Saskatchewan Man Who Farms Intensively Agriculture Is Coming

That mixed farming in Western Canada pays is the text of an article in a recent number of "The Dominion." In proof thereof the writer gives the following instance among others: "There's Ertman Tonn who bought a section of prairie land up in Central Saskatchewan, near my place, a while ago. At the same time he also took a homestead. Now he's in both kinds of farming. Last year's crop which he sold in October, brought him $4,700.00—his wheat and oats off 300 acres. But he also raised stock, including horses, hogs and cattle that were worth at least $8,000.00. That man would not take $30,000.00 for his 800 acres."

Speaking of intensive farming in England he said:

"I think that in a great many ways they do things better in the Old Country, where the population is heavier and where the average farmer has to be content to get along with less land. They farm more intensively over there. In fact they tell me that many farmers over there produce as much in dollars and cents from ten acres as some of our farmers can get here out of a whole quarter section. I wonder if the average farmer realizes that some of the richest farms in Western Canada—the farms that produce the striking results in dollars and cents—are striking examples of the most productive soil in the Dominion being used most unscientifically. Science will get its turn, however, as this land becomes more valuable. Instead of the comparatively small number of large farms which we have at present we are going to have a multitude of little ones."

Knox Young People's Society Organized

On Wednesday evening, last week, about twenty young people met at the Presbyterian church and organized what is to be called, Knox Young People's Society. This society is to meet weekly. The first meeting of each month will be Educational. The second Devotional and Missionary. The third Literary. The fourth Social. The fifth, when there is such, just what the Executive Committee decide to make it.

Each department of the work is to be under the charge of a Vice-President, who is to be responsible for the evening's programme and preside over the meeting. The officers elected were as follows:

Honorary President—W. H. Marshall.
President—G. O. Johnson.
Vice Presidents—Lorne Good, Educational; Mrs. D. H. Marshall, Devotional and Missionary; Miss Eva Sexsmith, Literary; Miss Emily Moyle Social.

Secretary—George Sexsmith, Jr.
Treasurer—Miss Hazel Good.

This week being the last week in the month, there was held on Tuesday evening, at the manse, under the direction of the Social Department a very enjoyable, social evening. Over thirty young people were present. After the evening's programme, while awaiting refreshments, Mr. Johnson was called upon for a short speech, in which, on behalf of the Society he extended thanks to the host and hostess, for the pleasant evening and, while commenting on the bright prospects for a successful Y.P.A. urged upon the society the necessity of each member doing his or her part when asked.

A very commendable feature of this social function was this, that nearly everyone was on hand, shortly after eight o'clock. Promptness in beginning and closing all our meetings is one of our society's ideals. At the meeting for organization it was decided that all our meetings should begin promptly at eight and all except special ones, close, if possible, within the hour.
